Frida's letter

For the past week we have been going swimming at the Y.A.S. of swimming I have been known for my cannon balls. People are starting to call them Tannen-balls. I don't know if that means that I'm good at cannon balls... But it sure feels good when somebody says it.

In art we have been working on abstract paintings. First we were working on realistic: still life paintings. Then we made them more abstract. Then we were working on prints. It's kind of hard to explain how you make prints... But I will show you how I did it when I bring it home.

That's it for now.

Yours truly
